Stanton has demonstrated caring and stewardship in each of the communities along his journey, and his career exemplifies the ideal of commerce in the public interest. He presently serves on the boards of the Milwaukee Art Museum, the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra, the Greater Milwaukee Committee, and he serves as treasurer for the Milwaukee Jewish Federation.

I have great respect for Stanton Bluestone and his wife Judy and I can confidently say that the AJC could not have made a better selection. I am honored to join Stanton Bluestone's many friends and admirers in offering congratulations on this important and richly deserved honor.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION 102 REAFFIRMING U.S. LINKS WITH ISRAEL ON THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE MODERN STATE OF ISRAEL

HON. TOM LANTOS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, on November 29, 1947, the United Nations General Assembly voted to partition the British Mandate of Palestine, and that action set in place the conditions which led to the reestablishment of the State of Israel 6 months later. On May 14, 1948 the people of Israel formally proclaimed the establishment of the modern State of Israel, and on that very same day, the United States extended diplomatic recognition to the new state.

Beginning later this month with the 50th anniversary of the United Nations General Assembly vote and continuing through the formal celebration of the 50th anniversary of the proclamation of the state next May, the people of Israel are marking a half century of the flourishing of the modern State of Israel.

Mr. Speaker, it is most appropriate that we here in the Congress on behalf of the American people reaffirm the bonds of warm friendship that link us with the Jewish people and Israel. Israel is our only democratic ally in the volatile Middle East region, and the strong common links that bind us with the people of Israel reflect our shared experiences and our strong shared interests.

Today, with our distinguished colleague and the Chairman of the International Relations Committee, Congressman BENJAMIN GILMAN, and a number of our other distinguished colleagues in the House, I have introduced a Joint Resolution which (1) recognizes the historic significance of the fiftieth anniversary of Israel, (2) commends the people of Israel for their remarkable achievements in building a new state and a pluralistic democratic society in the face of half a century of terrorism, hostility and belligerence by many of her neighbors, (3) reaffirms the bonds of friendship and cooperation which have existed between the United States and Israel for the past half-century and which have been significant for both countries, and (4) extends the warmest congratulations and best wishes to the State of Israel and her people for a peaceful and prosperous and successful future.

Mr. Speaker, I invite my colleagues to join me and Chairman GILMAN in cosponsoring this resolution, and I ask that the text of our resolution be included in the RECORD.

H.J. RES. 102

Expressing the sense of the Congress on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the modern State of Israel and reaffirming the bonds of friendship and cooperation between the United States and Israel.

Whereas on November 29, 1947, the United Nations General Assembly voted to partition the British Mandate of Palestine, and through that vote, to create the State of Israel;

Whereas on May 14, 1948, the people of Israel proclaimed the establishment of the sovereign and independent State of Israel and the United States Government established full diplomatic relations with Israel;

Whereas the desire of the Jewish people to establish an independent modern state of Israel is the outgrowth of the existence of the historic Kingdom of Israel established three thousand years ago in the city of Jerusalem and in the land of Israel;

Whereas one century ago at the First Zionist Congress on August 29 to 31, 1897, in Basel, Switzerland, participants under the leadership of Theodore Herzl affirmed the desire to reestablish a Jewish homeland in the historic land of Israel;

Whereas the establishment of the modern State of Israel as a homeland for the Jews following the slaughter of more than six million European Jews during the Holocaust;

Whereas since its establishment fifty years ago, the modern state of Israel has rebuilt a nation, forged a new and dynamic society, and created a unique and vital economic, political, cultural, and intellectual life despite the heavy costs of six wars, terrorism, international ostracism, and economic boycotts;

Whereas the people of Israel have established a vibrant and functioning pluralistic democratic political system including freedom of speech, a free press, free and fair and open elections, the rule of law, and other democratic principles and practices;

Whereas, at great social and financial costs, Israel has absorbed hundreds of thousands of Jews from countries throughout the world, many of them refugees from Arab countries, and fully integrated them into Israeli society;

Whereas for half a century the United States and Israel have maintained a special relationship based on mutually shared democratic values, common strategic interests, and moral bonds of friendship and mutual respect; and

Whereas the American people have shared an affinity with the people of Israel and regard Israel as a strong and trusted ally and an important strategic partner;

Now, therefore, be it Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the United States

(1) recognizes the historic significance of the fiftieth anniversary of the reestablishment of the sovereign and independent modern State of Israel;

(2) commends the people of Israel for their remarkable achievements in building a new state and a pluralistic democratic society in the Middle East in the face of terrorism, hostility and belligerence by many of her neighbors;

(3) reaffirms the bonds of friendship and cooperation which have existed between the United States and Israel for the past half-century and which have been significant for both countries; and

(4) extends the warmest congratulations and best wishes to the State of Israel and her people for a peaceful and prosperous and successful future.

HONORING AMBASSADOR
SHYAMALA B. COWSIK OF INDIA

HON. JON D. FOX

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. FOX. Mr. Speaker, it is an honor as a member of the International Relations Committee's Subcommittee on Asia and the Pacific to bid farewell to a person who has worked closely with members of our Committee and the Congress as a whole. After 2 years of tireless work, she has completed her second tour in Washington and sadly will be moving to a new post. The Ambassador's professionalism and keen understanding of our two nation's histories, culture, and diplomatic relations allowed her to be particularly effective.

During this period, we have witnessed a dramatically expanded dialogue between our nations. This has taken the form of interparliamentary contacts, ministerial meetings, trade growth and a visit by the First lady. As a result of Ambassador Cowsik's work, I am convinced that our two democracies can work to create an international order that is based on international law and mutual respect.

LIMITED OVERTIME EXEMPTION

HON. LINDSEY O. GRAHAM

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, today I am introducing legislation to provide a limited overtime exemption from section 7(k) of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) for public sector employees who provide emergency medical services (EMS)—the same FLSA exemption afforded to fire protection personnel. Without this change in law, there will continue to be circumstances in which EMS personnel are working the same tours of duty as either fire protection or law enforcement personnel, but must be paid overtime for any hours worked in excess of 40 hours during any workweek.

In some localities, such as Pickens County, SC, EMS functions are entirely separate from fire protection and law enforcement activities, but their job duties are identical. There should be no difference in the treatment of EMS personnel under the FLSA simply because of the manner in which emergency services are provided by local communities. Furthermore, in many jurisdictions, the majority of emergency calls are medical emergencies. The current situation is very expensive for State and local governments and intrudes on their management of fire protection and law enforcement activities.

Section 7(k) of the FLSA provides a partial exemption from overtime for those employees engaged in fire protection and law enforcement activities. Employers are allowed to establish work periods of up to 28 days, and overtime compensation is not owed until fire protection employees have worked more than 212 hours and law enforcement personnel exceed 171 hours of work. There have been
